

Bert Slomp og Dodo Astrup skrev følgende hyldest til Málbjörg-guiderne.

HYLDEST TIL »MÁLBJÖRG-GUIDERNE«

Welcome people here around you are going to listen to a brand new sound the Iceland-rap we will sing to you and we hope you'r gonna like it too.

We have come from far away
Iceland is the place to stay.
Hot springs, horses and sunshine
Málbjörg men they are divine even to the gods they speak and ordred sunshine for this week.

Ivon is a very elever man
much he knows about his land, and he talks and talks and talks
takes us out for enormous walks.

Up the hill and down the hill
goes the bus - and also the bill Petur almost got a shock,
while Benni only counts the flock.

Iceland is a steamy place
rotten smells get in your face.
If you want a nice warm pool,
all you do is dig a hole.

We go swimming every night
the whirlpool makes our head so light.
But when the ball comes into sight
we all end up in a heavy fight.

Iceland is a sagaland
Málbjörg has the best of man, Vikingelod they us have shown to our best friends they have grown.

Vikingelod they no more shed
now they only tourists get Málbjörg has the best of guides, therefore they will win this price.
